Solemnity of All Saints

RENEWAL

The Franciscan Renewal Center • A Roman Catholic Community of the Franciscan Province of St. Barbara

Dear members and friends of Our Lady of the Angels,

Growing up in a very engaged Catholic family and with a pretty healthy sense of Church, I still have felt for a long time that becoming a saint was something wonderful but out of reach. It could also be attributed to the fact that I was taught to strive for excellence but never seek esteem or recognition. Mom used to repeat this adage (please forgive the exclusive language): He who toots his own bassoon, the same will not be tooted.

I see things differently now, however, not in the area of self-importance but in the possibility of success at achieving the goal of baptism. Sainthood is not only possible for us, it is certain if we continue to desire it and to stay in the struggle. God does not expect perfection but, rather, persistence, and gives us all that we need to finish well. We just have to keep our eye on the prize and to remember to help one another as we journey together.

The image from Revelation is very encouraging. Some Christian groups choose to focus on a fixed number of "success stories," such as the 144,000, marked with the seal. I choose to celebrate the "great multitude, which no one could count." I see you and me in that multitude! The vision is one of a community that has placed God above all things, composed of people who have focused, not on themselves or the many distractions of this world, but on the unsurpassable beauty of God. Keeping our focus on God, therefore, and not the moments when we or others stumble in life, is the best strategy for success.

Although we may not be able to look directly into the face of God while on earth, Jesus reminds us that we can surely find God when we look with compassion into the eyes of sisters and brothers in need. The Greek word used to describe such people in the Gospel is makarioi, which could mean either "blessed" or "happy," the result of someone who has received favor from God. Even though they are favored, most folks would not envy some of their circumstances for being divinely favored – or might we? I don't think anyone would choose to be in a situation of mourning or persecution or poverty of any kind, but if you knew God would favor you for being meek, would you purposefully strive to be meek? God knows we have such few meek people left in the world, or peacemakers for that matter! These kinds of things are certainly within our grasp – if we desire them, and if we believe them to be a pathway to God's favor.

In this beautiful beginning of Matthew's "Sermon on the Mount," Jesus is not only speaking to those who are in one of life's struggles, Jesus also is encouraging us to find God's favor by purposefully entering the struggle. Each situation leads to a way of or opportunity for experiencing and/or expressing love in the world. When we are the vehicles of such channels of love, we are already in communion with God because we are acting as God acts; we have become like God; we have found our place in the cloud of witnesses!

Sisters and brothers, a very contentious election result awaits us next week. Most of us are sure of what the good and Godly outcome should be, which means roughly half of us will be rejoicing and the other half, greatly disappointed and possibly retaliatory. There will be mourning, poverty of spirit, and persecution. What a great opportunity to be a peacemaker and to realize that, even if the POTUS does not lead us well toward the common good, we can still hunger and thirst for righteousness, ministering to the least among us and therefore securing for ourselves a place with the makarioi, joining the great multitude before our God.

Together with you and all makarioi,

Fr. Daniel F. Barica, OFM, Rector

NEW Sunday Mass schedule

(effective November 1)

8:00 am and 10:00 am

5:00 pm Saturday Vigil Mass

Holy Communion will be available from 11:30 am to 12 Noon on Sundays.

The Art & Environment Ministry

This ministry is working behind the scenes in preparation for Advent and Christmas, planning to decorate and enhance the surroundings for these important celebrations. This ministry is not a weekly commitment, but the workdays are specific and can sometimes be physically strenuous.

In the midst of this pandemic, our needs are even more specific and extra care will need to be taken to keep everyone healthy and safe.

We need people with physical strength to climb ladders, set up large Christmas trees, as well as various crafting skills like decorating, sewing, flower arranging, etc. As we begin to look in the direction of these beautiful seasons and holidays, if you are interested and able to participate, please email norbert@thecasa.org.

Annual Mass of Remembrance
Sat., November 7, 2020 ~ 10:30 a.m.

November has traditionally been a time for remembering those who have died. On Saturday, November 7 at 10:30 am, we will have a special "Mass of Remembrance" for all those who have died this year. During this Mass, we will read the names aloud of all the funerals held here at the Casa in the last 12 months, as well as the names of other family members from our community who have died this past year.

Bring a picture of your deceased loved one … bring your memories … bring your grief … bring your faith … bring your hope … bring your families and friends – all are welcome.

"Lord, help us who remain to comfort one another with assurances of faith, until we all meet in Christ and are with you and our dearly departed for ever." (from the Prayer of Commendation, Catholic Funeral Mass)

The Book of Life – 2020

During this month of November, you will find our new virtual "Book of Life" on the Casa's website. The link to this new page will be available very soon. Once the link has been made public, you are welcome to inscribe the names of all of your loved ones who have died. We will remember them in prayer all month.

Letter from the Director...

While talking to my granddaughter (age 15) the other day, she asked me what I was going to dress up as for Halloween. Wait a minute. Why would I dress up for Halloween? I told her that I wasn't dressing up and didn't have any plans for that night. This sparked a discussion on creativity and the joys of dressing up as someone or something else.

As a child, I loved to plan and get ready for Halloween. When my kids were little, Halloween was a big deal for us. We are talking candy! And a mom who made sure to check all the full pillowcases for anything that might be dangerous (aka Reese's Peanut Butter Cups!).

Beyond the dressing up, the candy part, and secular definition of Halloween, it is really a celebration of the eve before All Saints Day. The word is taken from an older English term, "hallows," meaning "holy" and "e'en," a truncation of the word evening, in reference to the vigil of All Saints Day.

What does this have to do with dressing up? What is your child dressing up as? So much to pick from and have fun with.

How about you? Dressing up? Need an excuse to dress up? Here is an opportunity for both kids and parents to dress up and have fun – All Saints Day Family Catechesis Zoom Session, Sunday Nov. 1 at 10:45 am.

To have the most fun, dress up as a saint! Who is your favorite saint? Which saint would you like to emulate? Which saint fascinates you? Which saint is the easiest to dress up as? I didn't just say that did I? I did! Pick a saint and come join the Family Zoom session with your costume on! Prizes will be given to everyone who dresses up. There will be a St. Francis sock sweepstakes – every child and parent who dresses up has the chance to win a pair of St. Francis socks!

We are all saints in the making. Join me in dressing up and celebrating those saints who have gone before us. See you on Sunday!

Peace and good, Patty Tafolla

God of Laughter and Joy,
We turn to you in the way of our ancient ancestors, grateful for the abundance of food and festivity that surrounds us at this time of year.
Keep all children safe as they embark on their Halloween revels.
Light their way through the dark night and enfold them in your love.
May the real treat in their lives be grace that multiplies in depth and breadth as they grow older.
We pray this with all the saints in heaven.
Amen

We Are Called To Be Christian Stewards

God has truly blessed us with so much. From families to friends, from the air we breathe, to life itself. We know that most importantly our God has given us faith and His unconditional love. During these challenging times when there may be moments we feel isolated, scared, or depressed, we turn to Him and His Church for support. Now, more than ever, the Casa must be a welcoming place for everyone searching for compassion, healing, and love.

As you may know, each year we conduct an Annual Appeal to raise contributions that provide us the opportunity to positively impact so many lives. Hopefully, you will be receiving a letter this week asking for your support in this effort. If not, the front desk has additional copies. With your generosity, coupled with our commitment to fiscal stewardship, we can continue to provide programs and services that meet the foundational needs for renewal in our community.

I believe giving is truly a spiritual matter. We are called to be "Christian Stewards" and to live the example Jesus showed us. To be a "Christian Steward" means to return to God in thanksgiving a portion of what we have received. Stewardship also teaches us to receive gratefully and to respond joyfully. Faith gives us access to God, who is the source of everything we have and everything we will ever need.

Your financial support is vital for us to continue the transformational work that is done at the Franciscan Renewal Center by the friars, volunteers, and staff. With your participation and support, we can flourish in our efforts in serving God and each other. — Michael Stephan, Director of Development

A Message of Hope

Hope during a difficult time is a message we can all appreciate. We're still dealing with the effects of COVID-19 on public health and the economy, we got through a "beastly" summer, many of us feel tense about many things like schools, elections and public gatherings and now we are thinking about the upcoming Holiday season.

What can we use from a first century letter that could possibly be of any help to us? The Book of Revelation (not Revelations) was written for early Christians going through difficult times in the Roman Empire. The author utilized coded language to describe their situation with the symbolic images of beasts, fires, mysterious numbers, and many others. Some examples include: a white robe = joy; palm branch = victory; 144,000 = 12x12x1000, a number that symbolizes completeness; 1000 symbolizes the "New Israel of God" (Gal. 6) – that's us - and we are called "the 12 tribes in dispersion" (James 1).

The author told them to hold fast to the faith in the midst of numerous trials. They were given hope in the belief that God would act "very soon" to break into history again – very soon from the standpoint of the eternal God. Liturgical language and images were used to remind them, and us, that we are in fact taking part in the heavenly liturgy when we gather as members at liturgy here on earth. We are assured that we are part of "a great multitude which no one could count." God is well-aware of us and will bring the heavens and the earth into a new era of radical change and fulfillment through Christ, the heavenly Lamb. There is a lot of encouragement and hope for us to gather from this last book of the Bible.

Peace and Good,

Joseph Schwab OFM.

Bringing More Love, Kindness, Compassion and Acceptance Into the World
Saturday, Nov. 14 | 9:00 am - 4:00 pm

In this six-hour training, participants will get an in-depth understanding of the roots of institutional racism, microaggressions, privilege and implicit bias. Attendees will need to be prepared emotionally to face uncomfortable ideas and share openly with their fellow attendees. The facilitators will be ready to do the same.

Fee: $100 including a boxed lunch. Pre-registration required. Arizona mental health professionals can earn six CEUs: $149 (also includes boxed lunch). To register for CEUs, please email lora@thecasa.org.

A Brush With God Virtual Icon Workshop

Begins Tuesday, Dec. 1
with Peter Pearson on Google Classroom

Join iconographer Peter Pearson for this on-demand workshop, perfect for the Advent season. The Kazan Mother of God (Kazanskaya) icon was brought to Russia from Constantinople in the early 13th century and disappeared for several hundred years before re-emerging to become one of that nation's most venerated icons for the next 500 years. During the time of the Bolshevik Revolution, it disappeared once again only to resurface in Fatima nearly 50 years later. It was given over to the care of Pope John Paul II, who returned it to Russia in 2004.

This contemporary version of that ancient image uses a very simple, bi-chromatic color scheme, echoing the colors of the desert. You can paint at your own pace—every day or so a new step will be added to the instructions, which will remain available for you at any time. Resources include photographs, written instructions, and optional weekly group check-ins for questions and shared learning conversations.

Fee $100. Pre-registration required.

Emmaus Retreat for Grieving Parents

Friday, Dec 4, 4:00 pm - Sunday, Dec 6, 1:00 pm
with Marianne Gouveia & Gregory Eckerman

Serving the Spiritual Needs of Parents
Who Have Lost a Child

Of all the pains that life can hand us, arguably the most searing is the loss of a child. During this weekend, just as Jesus joined his distraught disciples on the road to Emmaus, we pray for all of our parents, and we ask Jesus to join us as we walk the horrendous journey of grieving our loss every day.

We focus on the promise of eternal life and the rich teachings of our faith and ask:

- Where is God in my pain?
- Where is my child right now?
- Why do I feel abandoned by God?
- How could God let this happen?

The retreat is offered by grieving parents who have lost children of their own and is supported by spiritual leaders who understand this ministry. Together, we provide an opportunity for parents to gather in a sacred, warm, and compassionate space with others who know their pain. All faiths are welcome.

Fee, including meals: $135 Commuter; $225 Private room w/bath; $135 Shared room w/bath.

Pre-registration required.
